Pay Cut

Australian workers got us through the pandemic in 2020. They deserve a pay rise.

Billionaire retailer Gerry Harvey's company, Harvey Norman, has made millions in extra profit during the pandemic. Now retail employers have said that the lowest paid workers should have a real wage cut through a six-month delay in any pay increases from the annual wage review. Other employers have argued for no increase at all. The government's economic recovery doesn't include low paid workers.

FACT

Harvey Norman profits jumped 116% in 6 months

FACT

Harvey Norman received $22 million in JobKeeper

FACT

Gerry Harvey received an estimated $80 million in salary and dividends

FACT

The minimum adult wage is just $19.84 per hour, Gerry Harvey gets equivalent of $40,991.90 per hour***

*based on the $80m estimate above

FACT

Government and employers have failed to support a fair pay rise for Australian workers

Australian Unions have asked for a 3.5% pay rise that will put money into workers' pockets. They will spend that money in local businesses to create secure local jobs. Gerry Harvey and the Federal Government should support a pay rise for Australian workers.
